

Drew Briney

Lively and energetic, Drew Briney delights and entertains his audiences using juggling to tell his stories. Drew earned the title of “Utah’s Best Professional Juggler” in 2001, has competed internationally, and has performed for many civic, private, and professional festivals, parties, and charity celebrations. You won’t want to miss this talented and riveting storyteller.

Dr. Bruce

Magician, puppeteer, storyteller, and balloon-twisting extraordinaire, Bruce Chamberlain also spends his spare time as a full-time hospice director and medical doctor. He performs in schools, elevators, and at the occasional Bar Mitzvah. A master of distraction, Bruce will delight and entertain children of all ages, so grab the kids and pull up a chair—Dr. Bruce is sure to deliver.

Dal-Pal’s Rigmarole

Dallin Blakenship is a full-time computer modeler nurturing a crazy puppet-building passion. He first ventured into the world of puppets a few years ago and has since cultivated a great love for bringing these little characters to life. Check out his blog where he posts most of his puppet-building adventures. thegoldengluegun.blogspot.com

Joe & Issac Flores

Two of the most creative and entertaining mimes you’ll ever meet, Joe & Issac Flores are sometimes serious, usually hilarious, and always a delight. Joe can make you believe anything—and all without saying a word! Joe is also president of the Utah Puppetry Guild and works for Robotronics, Inc. as a robot designer.

Jugglenutz

Come see why Utah’s premier comedy juggling team has won so many state championships. Mark Nelson and Brent Jensen juggle anything and everything from flaming torches to knives, bowling pins to little balls—both on and off their unicycles. And, if these amazing feats aren’t enough, you’ll be sure to giggle through the comedy routines. Jugglenutz is a favorite for all ages. jugglenutz.com

Jugglers

You will be amused and entertained throughout the day by these wonderful jugglers—Calvin Pratt, Joshua Wartena, and Noah Kershisnik. You may wonder if they are having more fun than Festival attendees!

Mark Pulham

Mark is a local celebrity around Orem—especially to his former students who were lucky enough to have him for their fourth grade teacher at Westmore Elementary. He currently works at the Orem Public Library and acts in theater productions at the Hale Center Theater. Mark’s puppet shows are full of imagination and humor, and his character voices are a true delight.

McMazing Tales

With 100% Human Quality Creativity and stories plucked fresh from their belly buttons, you won’t want to miss Will McAllister and Randall McNair doing what they LOVE to do—telling stories with some very wacky puppets. Using puppets, props, and gadgets to weave their quirky tales, these one-of-a-kind storytellers have been performing puppetry shows for young audiences for years. www.mcmazingtales.com

Paradise Puppetworks

Paradise Puppetworks has a hundred puppets of all types, but this year they will use their favorites—marionettes—to perform fairy tale classics. Paul and Carla are the anchors for this troupe, but they often call on sons, daughters, and even some of their grandchildren to help pull it all together.

Pulley Puppets

Pulley Puppets is a family of puppeteers who have been performing their funny, entertaining, and witty shows all around the valley. They enjoy creating new stories or adding a special twist to familiar stories. Pulley Puppets are members of the Utah Puppetry Guild and Puppeteers of America. pulleypuppets.blogspot.com

Tattle Tales

Kathy Adams and Cindy Taylor have combined their amazing stories and adorable puppets to create Tattle Tales. Cindy and Kathy have long recognized the power of puppets to reach and teach children. They love to watch the faces of their audiences—both young and old—light up as they tell their tales. What could be more fun than spending time with Tattle Tales and “laughing while learning?”

Dave Young

Dave Young started performing magic early in life and toured for four years performing “Grand Illusion,” a full-stage magic show. He performed over 350 shows, completed three television specials, and traveled the same circuits as David Copperfield in the late 1970s. He used his magic show to pay for his education at Brigham Young University and has traveled extensively around the world. Dave is the father of five children and grandfather of eight.
